Editorial

Hi to all,

Welcome to the last edition of the Ghostbuster magazine for 2011.

We are including in this issue more of a series of articles by some of our members, asking questions of their ancestors.

There will be a prize for the best article, presented at the Christmas Party on 3rd December 2011.

In 2012 we will be holding several courses: An updated Ancestry.com course, a beginner's course concentrated on Internet research, and an Irish Research course. Details are later in this magazine.

Please continue to visit our Family History room and the Local Studies room at the Library. Please also check out the library collections for Family History items. We are continuing to include new items as they appear.

Welcome also to our new members.

Have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

David Beddie

New Members

We welcome the following new member to the CDFHS.

Elaine Davey

Situation Vacant

Would you like to become more involved with the work of the society? If so, we would like to hear from you.

Everyone who works for the society does so on a voluntary basis, with some giving just an hour or two each month, while others devote much of their free time to the running of the society.

We are always looking for volunteers.

Please contact our Volunteer Coordinator, Marie Holmes at:

marieholmes@iprimus.com.au

From the President's Pen. . . .

It is nigh on two months since being elected President of the Campbelltown District Family History Society Inc. I have to search into those matters affecting the CDFHS over the last number of years. Over the last ten years my own personal and my wife (Colleen's) family trees have been our own fixed interest.

As President I must consider all matters impinging on our Society as a whole and its Members. Our family history group is stable in what it has been committed to. It was unfortunate we could not proceed with the Seminar through no fault of the Committee. These days there is so much available for the avid searcher on the internet etc., that trying to get people to attend these functions becomes a very big task.

Now it is for me to talk to our members and see how best we can proceed with our family history. What new ideas can the Members input, what further aids are there out there to advance our knowledge? Concentration on what Ancestry keeps adding to their internet offerings, also the Federal and State Archives and how we can make the best use of them.

Looking forward to working with the Committee as a whole and hoping they can further assist me in my year as President.

William E Carter
President,

Podcast: The parish: administration and records

For hundreds of years the parish was the most important unit of local government. This talk covers the historical administration of the parish, its officials and their records, as well as showing you how you can use these records to trace your ancestors and find out more about their local community.

Ask An Ancestor

By Carole Cockshott

WILLIAM ELIAS BURTON – you were born in 1843 in Preston Lancashire and baptized in St. John’s Church of England Preston on 12th November 1843. You were the 3rd born son of Elias and his wife Alice Atherton.

Between 1845 and 1847 the family moved from Preston to Newton Heath just outside Manchester and your father became the station master at Clayton Bridge Railway Station with the family living in the station master’s house.

Your father Elias died in 1865 and in 1866 all the children younger than yourself (there were now ten children altogether) were baptized in All Saints Church Newton Heath including your elder sister Mary Alice who had already been baptized in Preston shortly after she was born in 1845. For some reason you were not among them.

In 1868 you were arrested with two others and charged with receiving 208 yards of printed cloth and sentenced to 12 months imprisonment. In 1871 you were serving a sentence at the Male Convict Prison in Chatham in Kent.

By November 1877 you were once again before the court and charged with burglary – the judge heard the case over three days and summed up by saying that you were an habitual criminal who had already served several sentences including one of seven years and went on to sentence you William Elias to a further 10 years.

The 1881 census show William Elias as an inmate at Wormwood Scrubs Prison.

By 1888 you had obviously served your time because in that year you married a widow Olive Nicholson in Salford Lancashire.

Did she know of your criminal background when she married you?

After that there is no further trace you William Elias – your wife Olive appears on the 1891 census living with her married son and when she died in 1907 her son registered her death describing her as the ‘widow of William Elias Burton’.

My question to you is – WHERE DID YOU GO??

Ask An Ancestor

By ANN TRIBOLET

Research has shown the majority of my ancestors arrived in Australia from England and or Ireland either as convicts, free settlers, some of whom arrived under the 'Free Immigration Scheme' and a few as non-sponsored paying immigrants, for whatever reasons they held. Two of those paying immigrants were brothers Abraham Jakob (g/g/uncle) and Albert Samuel Tribolet (g/g/grandfather) from Switzerland.

Abraham, known as Jacob age 24, and his brother Albert age 20, arrived at Sydney in 1858 per the 'Fanny Kirchner' which sailed from the Port of Bremerhaven in Germany in 1857 with all hands and German passenger immigrants.

From 1832 to 1974 the Port of Bremerhaven was the world-famous overseas port to seven million emigrants who left Europe with over 90% of them bound for the USA. The brothers, born in Erlach in the Canton of Berne, Switzerland, left family and friends, then travelled from their homeland, across Germany to Bremerhaven, for the journey to Australia. My question here is... 'What encouraged you both to leave Switzerland and migrate to Australia, and why Australia, when the majority of migrants leaving Bremerhaven were bound for the USA??'

Also, Jacob gave information on his naturalization papers as having travelled to Braidwood, from Sydney, where he remained for eight years; then south to Geelong for five years; north to Kiandra for one year; three years at Young and finally arrived in Forbes about 1874, where he remained for 40 years till his death in 1914. I ask you this... 'What work did you do and what did you find at these many places? Did you meet the other Tribolet families in Geelong at the time? Were they related to you and if so in what way??'

Also Albert, where were you and what did you do for 21 years from your arrival in 1858, until I found you mining in Forbes in 1879 and where you married in 1886?

Oh Jacob and Albert, answers to these questions would provide me with much missing information needed to complete our family stories!

Ask An Ancestor

By Val Edwards

Letter to my Great-Great-Grandmother on my father's side. She was born Mary Beattie, then married Matthew Smith and when in Australia, married my Great-Great-Grandfather, William Stewart.

Dear Mary,

I am writing to you on behalf of several of your descendants, including myself, as we cannot locate how and when you came to Australia.

As a mother myself, I cannot imagine leaving a small toddler back in Scotland with his father, like you did (or forced to do). Some of us, seem to think that you might have committed a felony and were forced to come out to the Colony back then. I know that David (you child) was with his father in the 1841 Census of Scotland.

James Ross (Smith) Stewart, your son, who was born in Sydney in 1844, if still alive, might be able to answer this question. Was Matthew Smith his father, as his birth certificate does not show who his dad was?

How did you manage to end up in Goulburn with Matthew Stewart? It seems that you had much happiness there and ultimately, David came out with your parents to settle in Goulburn also, when David was 13 years old.

It would be greatly appreciated if you could answer these questions for us.

Yours sincerely,

Val Edwards - your Great-Great-Grand-daughter.

Yea, once a hobby - now an expensive addiction!

When there's a will, I want to be in it.

What do you mean my Birth Certificate expired?

Ask An Ancestor

By Marion Anne Scrivener

Dear Great-Great-Grandfather,

Where were you listed in the 1851 Irish Census? You were not listed in Grange of Killyglen with your family.

Your wife Frances (Fanny) was listed, along with your four sons including John, my great-grandfather.

I have search a lot of other towns near there but all the John Kellys I found were either too old, too young, or married to other women.

I know that this was during the Irish Potato Famine. Had you moved away to a bigger town for work? Or another country? Had you sailed to America? Or even Australia?

I know that you must have been somewhere as Fanny was not listed as a widow. She was back living with her sisters and widowed mother and they were all employed as seamstresses as well as looking after her little boys.

Please Great-Great-Grandfather, I would love to know where you were, so I can complete a family history chart for you. Even BDM in Ireland are unable to help me, nor Familysearch.org.

Your loving Great-Great-Granddaughter

Marion Anne Scrivener.

Try genealogy. You can't get fired and you can't quit!

Someday YOU'LL be an ancestor too!

Save the trees... family trees, that is...

Bankruptcy records after 1869

In most bankruptcy cases, the records held by The National Archives are confined to brief, formal entries in various register series that will establish the fact of bankruptcy but will not provide much background detail. Case files, only survive for a very small sample.

Headings:

- * Bankruptcy jurisdiction after 1869
- * Bankruptcy functions of the Board of Trade
- * Petitions to the High Court
- * Searching for a bankrupt
- * Bankruptcy appeals
- * Statistics

Notices about bankruptcy proceedings were published in the London Gazette (also available at The National Archives in ZJ 1), and in The Times. Local newspapers, held by the appropriate local record office or by the British Library Newspaper Library, Colindale Avenue, London NW9 5HE, may also contain notices and reports relating to local bankruptcies.

Access this guide to find out how to find bankruptcy records in The National Archives Catalogue. There are browsing and search facilities in the catalogue.
